EDITORS' INTRODUCTION

This issue contains a selection of papers from the Twenty Fifth European Workshop on Econometrics and Health Economics and the combined North American and Australasian Workshop on Econometrics and Health Economics.

The European Workshop was organised by Southern Denmark University and held in Nyborg on 1st-3rd September 2016. The combined Annual Health Econometrics Workshop and Seventh Australasian Workshop on Econometrics and Health Economics was organised by the University of Hawaii on 11th-14th December 2015.

All of the papers published in this issue have gone through the usual process of refereeing for Health Economics. This has been carried out to a very tight publication schedule and we would like to thank all of the referees for their prompt responses.
